

I do not think the FCC should pass a new law over riding Indiana's telephone privacy law. It has made our home life a lot more enjoyable. We used to get two to four calls every evening, now we don't get one a month.